Pineville Grangers Hear Of Activities 25 Years Ago

WYCOMBE, Oct. 22.—Activities of Pineville Grange of a quarter century ago were discussed when members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scarborough on Monday evening.

This discussion was opened by Edna Smith, who read parts of two programs presented 25 years ago. Attendance at the meetings those days, she said, was much larger than today. Some times from 75 to 100 persons attended. Robert Ely was the master and Mrs. Edward Scarborough was the secretary at that time.

The Grange at that time was the sponsor of a farmers' institute, and it held corn shows in the Fall. Many of the meetings were featured by the playing of games. S. Wilfred Smith, the present master of the Grange, spoke of the crack degree team, which 25 years ago put on a degree at Edgewood.

The business session, which was in charge of the master, S. Wilfred Smith, was featured by a report of legislative committee.

The literary program was in charge of Mrs. S. Wilfred Smith.

ALL MANUFACTURING PLANTS MUST COMPLY WITH INSTRUCTIONS FOR PRACTICE OR ACTUAL BLACKOUTS

Blackout regulations affecting civilian war plants and all Federal Agencies issued by Mag. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Commanding General 3rd Service Command, in compliance with orders received from the Headquarters of the Eastern Defense Command, went to the Governors of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia today, and to the management of the large number of manufacturing plants concerned.

These new orders stipulate that "All manufacturing plants and establishments, including Federal agencies, will comply with the instructions for practice or actual blackouts issued by the State in which they are located, even though this means a temporary cessation of production."

General Reckord emphasized that although State Defense Councils have authority to grant relaxation of the practice blackout rules, this relaxation cannot reduce to a period of less than ten minutes duration the full participation in the blackout on the part of the plant. Complete exemption is not deemed advisable by the military authorities, because of the fact that there is an almost continual process of change in personnel, organization and facilities in the various plants, and the very purpose of the practice tests is lost unless adequately complied with.

The new directive, released today by General Reckord, places the responsibility for enforcement of blackout measures directly in the hands of State Defense Councils. However, the express right to determine the adequacy of these measures, and the proficiency of individuals and plants therewith, remains with the Army.

It is pointed out that before any plant may be granted any relaxation of the regulations and rules by a State Defense Council, provision must have been made to provide for the obscuring of boiler rooms, fire pump installations, sprinkler valve locations, main electric light and power transformation and distribution facilities, and first aid and hospital rooms.

The following is the text of the directive:

1. All manufacturing plants and establishments, including Federal agencies, will comply with blackout (practice and actual) instructions issued by the State in which they are located, even though this means a temporary cessation of production.

2. The Commanding General, Services of Supply, has designated selected munitions plants, or portions thereof, which will continue production during blackouts (practice and actual). Plants so designated, however, must provide complete obscuring of all light openings during blackout periods and comply with blackout regulations issued by the State in which they are located.

3. It is considered that the principal responsibility for blackout rests with the various States. The measures to be taken to effect a blackout are prescribed by the State Defense Councils, or State War Councils in accordance with advice from the Office of Civilian Defense. The Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command, operating through the Commanding Generals of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Service Commands, and the Military District of Washington, is responsible that the blackout measures taken in each State are adequate and that all concerned are proficient in effecting a condition of blackout when ordered by proper authority. The degree of blackout proficiency is usually ascertained as the result of a practice or test blackout.

4. It is considered necessary and desirable that manufacturing plants and establishments participate in both actual blackouts and test blackouts, and take such action during air raids as may provide the necessary protection with minimum interference with operation. However, it is considered appropriate that State Defense Councils or State War Councils permit the following arrangements to be established as adequate to accomplish the desired effect. It is desired that these

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF BRISTOL

Citizens of Bristol: This, our country, the United States of America, is in grave peril. We, Americans, are in great danger of losing our freedom and everything we hold dear. Are you going to stand by and watch this happen without raising a finger to help avert disaster?

Time and time again, in various and sundry ways, you have been appealed to, pleaded with to join the ranks of Civilian Defense personnel, without much success. Can't you realize, can't you understand that our country is at war against the powers of evil that are running rampant over the entire globe? Can't you appreciate the fact that thousands of our brave soldiers, sailors, marines and fliers have laid down their lives for the freedom you are now enjoying? Can't you see that your attitude toward the war and its operation cannot continue, unless you wish to lose the freedom which you value so highly? Can't you understand that all these things, freedom of speech, freedom of action, freedom of worship, freedom of the press, etc., can be lost unless you wake up to the fact that we are at war?

Our brave men, fighting for all these things we hold dear, who are stationed

BUCKS COUNTY OIL DEALERS HOLD SESSION

Officers Are Elected And Problems Are Discussed

VOLTZ IS THE CHAIRMAN

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 22.—The Bucks County Division, Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, met yesterday at the Doylestown Inn to elect officers for 1942-43 and to discuss problems of special interest to highway users of the county.

"The oil men of this county have been solidly organized for several years as a unit of the state-wide organization," stated Paul C. Voltz, well-known Bristol oil man and chairman of the county group. "We have always acted in the interest of our automotive customers who pay a staggering load of taxes, state and federal. Today our interest in highways is greater than ever, for war has brought home to America how vital highway transportation is to our economic security and to a successful all-out war effort."

"War has multiplied many of the problems of this industry and its customers. A combination of circumstances is responsible for the fact that the Motor Fund will have a heavy surplus during the war years. The Federal Government is urging, through Congressman Doughton, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, the reduction by states, counties and municipalities in their expenditures. Priorities, essential to the conservation of vital war materials, has sharply curbed highway maintenance, reconstruction and construction programs. While gasoline rationing

How Times Have Changed!

(By "The Stroller") There was a time when second-hand automobiles galore were to be seen lined up in front of business places of automotive dealers. But the war changed all of that. One day this week there were lined up on the grounds of Prickett's Sales Stables, Bath Road, six carriages—of various types and sizes. Verily—Dobbin may see his day again.

P. T. A. HAS SPECIAL SPEAKER; ADOPTS ITS PROGRAM FOR TERM

Hulmeville Group Plans To Establish Rubber and Galosh Exchange

ALSO HEALTH PROGRAM

Dr. H. I. Dillingham Stresses Need for Pupils Understanding Each Other

HULMEVILLE, Oct. 22.—With an attendance of 45, the Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association session last evening featured an address by Dr. Howard I. Dillingham, dean of Rider College, Trenton, N. J.

The members, with John A. Crowley presiding, also decided to establish a rubber and galosh exchange; adopted a general health program for the children as the term project; witnessed a short program of natural color slides; and at the conclusion of the evening were served refreshments in a Hallowe'en setting. The program was outlined by Ned Moyer and the association president.

Dr. Dillingham, in his opening remarks, stressed the fact that education is not actually divided, as is so often thought, into the elementary, high school and college sections. "There is actually not much difference in the method of teaching, the goal being pretty much the same throughout the years. And the teachers in all of these groups regard the home as one of the most important institutions of education." The speaker directed attention of the teachers and parents to the points which he felt important and so in need of emphasis. One in particular was in respect to personality. "The reason for lack of acknowledgment of personality of the other individual is frequently due to lack of education and lack of sympathy. The brotherhood of man is something that is very real. We should think of others in the same terms as we think of ourselves, and we will learn to know them and appreciate them more. If we really try to know the other fellow we can soon say 'I like everybody.' But one of the things that stands in our way is prejudice. There is too often a silly attitude toward those of other creeds and races, we dislike others just because they are different from us. If we try to understand the other fellow we can learn that there is much good in him and his beliefs, and we will begin to respect them. I feel that there is an understanding that should be brought into the school room when the child is young. We need tolerance."

That the child should be regarded by the teacher as an individual was another point stressed. "You can't teach a class. You must teach the individuals in the class." Dr. Dillingham, in directing his remarks to the

RETURNS VERDICT FOR THE DEFENDANT

Suit is Result of Automobile Accident at Andalusia In March

FALSE ARREST VERDICT

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 22.—A verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury Tuesday in the case of Paul Tashjian, Philadelphia, against Frank Garrigues, 3rd. The plaintiff brought suit for damages as a result of an automobile accident at Andalusia on March 29, this year.

A Collegeville painter and antique dealer won a $450 damage judgment for false arrest yesterday. The victim and complainant was David V. Ellinger, 31, Collegeville, who paints Pennsylvania Dutch scenes, some of which hang in the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts.

The loser was Mrs. Estella V. Neal, who formerly operated an antique shop at Doylestown and is now living near Hathers.

The quarrel started, testimony before Judge Calvin S. Boyer and a jury of six men and six women showed, over an antique corner cupboard. Ellinger was arrested on a charge of fraudulently selling the cupboard (and keeping the money) after she loaned it to him for exhibition in an antique show.

Ellinger testified he kept the money because Mrs. Neal owed him for antiques she bought at his shop.

He asked $25,000 damages to cover the humiliation he said he suffered when he spent an hour in prison awaiting bail and when he was fingerprinted and compelled to take a bath in the

IN TIME OF WAR PREPARE FOR PEACE

"We want no more 'Lost Generations' in this country," was the text of a recent radio address by General
Edward Martin, Republican candidate for Governor.

"When we talk about war economies and after-the-war economies, we want to draw a line around all our agencies for supporting and salvaging the family life of America.
Our homes, our churches and our schools built this Nation. They must be preserved. They stand today as the symbols and realities of what we must do for the children who remain to us," continued Martin.

"We must see to it that these children are kept healthy in body and in mind. We must see that they are taught the splendid history of their country and the great principles of our government.

"We must see that they have homes. We will maintain the high that has been given widowed and needy mothers. We must help them keep broken families together. We must avoid the unnecessary separation of a family that sometimes happens in the operation of our welfare laws.

"... Through the agencies of public health, public welfare, and public education, your next State Administration will protect and conserve the interests of our children of our home-makers, of our home-and of our family life in the Commonwealth. It is a duty that will not be ignored and a responsibility that will not be neglected.

"The home, school house and church are the bulwark of America."
General Martin is ignoring the bitter personal attacks of his opponent and is confining his campaign to the two issues of winning the war as quickly as possible and at the same time maintaining our system of government at home.

not making unnecessary trips in your car, thereby saving precious rubber and gas, and prolonging the life of your car. If you hoard or waste essential materials, you might as well be on Hitler's side, for you surely are aiding him and hurting your country.

The civilian defense setup of Bristol needs men and women, 18 years of age and over, to volunteer their services as air raid wardens and emergency police. Can your country and your neighbor count on you to do your share on the home front?

Consider how fortunate you are. You can still see a movie whenever you wish, you can still go to your church and worship as you please, you can move about from place to place without hindrance, you can still do just about as you please without any interference by a Gestapo. Do you value all this? Then it is your duty to make all these things secure by helping in every way that you can. It is your duty to God and country to work hard and make sacrifices to this end.
If you do not, it is quite within the realm of possibility that all this may be lost to us forever. Pray God that this shall never happen.

There is a possibility of air attack
by the enemy before this year is out.
Should this occur, God forbid, will you

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main, one of the screen's most comical teams, appear in "Jackass Mail," now showing at the Grand Theatre.

The film is replete with action, comedy and drama typical of Beery. The comedy moments are chiefly derived from Beery's blundering attempts to woo Miss Main, who plays the owner of a frontier dance hall. She is also the driver of the "Jackass Mail," which frequently carries large shipments of gold. Whether the gold or Miss Main is the object of Beery's affections is a moot question.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Priscilla Lane, co-starring with Robert Cummings in "Saboteur," at the Bristol Theatre, was selected for the role by Director Alfred Hitchcock because, in his estimation, she is more truly representative of the typical American girl than any other Hollywood actress.

be made the basis of participation in future scheduled test blackouts:

a. Those war plants specifically designated by Commanding General, SOS, to operate during blackouts, and which have demonstrated satisfactorily the ability to blackout their operations (within five minutes from time of alarm) and who are formally authorized (see subparagraph c. infra), should not be required to participate in future test blackouts for a period in excess of ten (10) minutes. This will be considered sufficient proof that they can blackout in a period of emergency. Complete exemption from future test blackouts, after initial proof of blackout proficiency, is not deemed justified because of subsequent changes in personnel, organization, and facilities.

b. Industrial operations which require the pulling of fires, dumping of iron or steel, or other measures to extinguish glow, may continue during subsequent test blackouts, provided operators have demonstrated their ability to obscure, shield or extinguish the illumination from these operations. However, during future test blackouts, the materials, personnel and organization should be checked in the nature of a drill to insure that all are in readiness for a real emergency.

c. The State Defense Council or State War Council is the authority to determine which plants may be granted a relaxation of practice blackout rules as stated above.

5. It is desired that the authorized State agencies enforce compliance with blackout regulations by all concerned, including all plants, installations and establishments engaged in War production except those owned by the Federal Government and operated by Federal officials.

6. Plants, installations and establishments owned by the Federal Government and operated by Federal officials will comply with the blackout regulations of the State within which they are located and in cases of non-compliance, it is desired that the State agencies report such fact to the Commanding General of the Service Command, in which located, for appropriate action.

will lower state revenues, the Motor Fund will undoubtedly have a heavy surplus during the war period.

"At the end of the war, tremendous sums will be required to meet the accumulated highway improvement needs. Unless the Motor Fund remains intact, aside from permissible expenditures, drastic increases in gasoline and automotive taxes and fees will become necessary to protect our great highway investment. Eleven states now have constitutional amendments which will afford their motor funds complete protection against any but highway use. Pennsylvania eventually must have the same protection.

"We must keep Motor Funds intact if we are to meet post-war highway demands. Every citizen should join us in this endeavor."

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church
O Lord, our Creator and Sustainer, who turnest into morning the shadows of the night, grant that we might be children of the light. Let the sun of thy righteousness shine into our hearts, and the brilliance of the countenance of Christ direct our pathway. Enlighten our minds, that in our thinking we might better understand and comprehend thee. So rule and govern us by thy spirit that faithless distrust and evil thoughts may be driven from us, that we might walk in the joy and the happiness that comes to those whose footsteps fall on the Highway of thy Will. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Doylestown Students To Do Part-Time Work

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 22—In order to help relieve the shortage of labor and because actual work experience is as valuable as school class work in training students for jobs later on, the Doylestown schools are arranging high school student schedules so that they may work one or two afternoons a week whenever local businesses need them.

This actual experience will replace the office practice course usually given to senior commercial students the latter half of the year, according to Supervising Principal J. L. Halderman.

TO AWARD TROPHIES TO 2 BALL TEAMS OF BRISTOL JR. LEAGUE

Franklin and Third Ward
Teams Are The Ones
To Be Honored

SAGOLLA TOP PITCHER

Oriola Was Also A Top Man
Of The Franklin
Nine

Trophies will be awarded to the championship Franklin team and the runner-up Third Ward team of the Bristol Junior Baseball League. This was decided at a meeting of the circuit held in the Diamond Sporting Goods store, Mill street, last night.

Secretary Joseph A. Diamanti presided.

The Franklin team captured the season's championship by eliminating both Third Ward and Voltz-Texaco in the playoffs and then went on to win the series championship by eliminating Voltz-Texaco and then winning two straight games from the Third Ward team.

The leading pitchers of the Franklin team were Joe Sagolla and "Toby" Oriola and when one wasn't pitching he was used on first base. Tommy Stewart, who recently joined the Navy, caught for the champs with "Sonny" Fields being on second; Mayo Scancelli at short; and Palumbo, third. The outfield was composed of Spinelli, Reyes, DeLissio, and Cianfarano.

The trophies will be awarded to the teams when the players of the entire league gather for a "hot dog" party at the store of John Fields, Wood street. Fields is treating the players with "dogs" and sodas. The date for the treat has not been set.

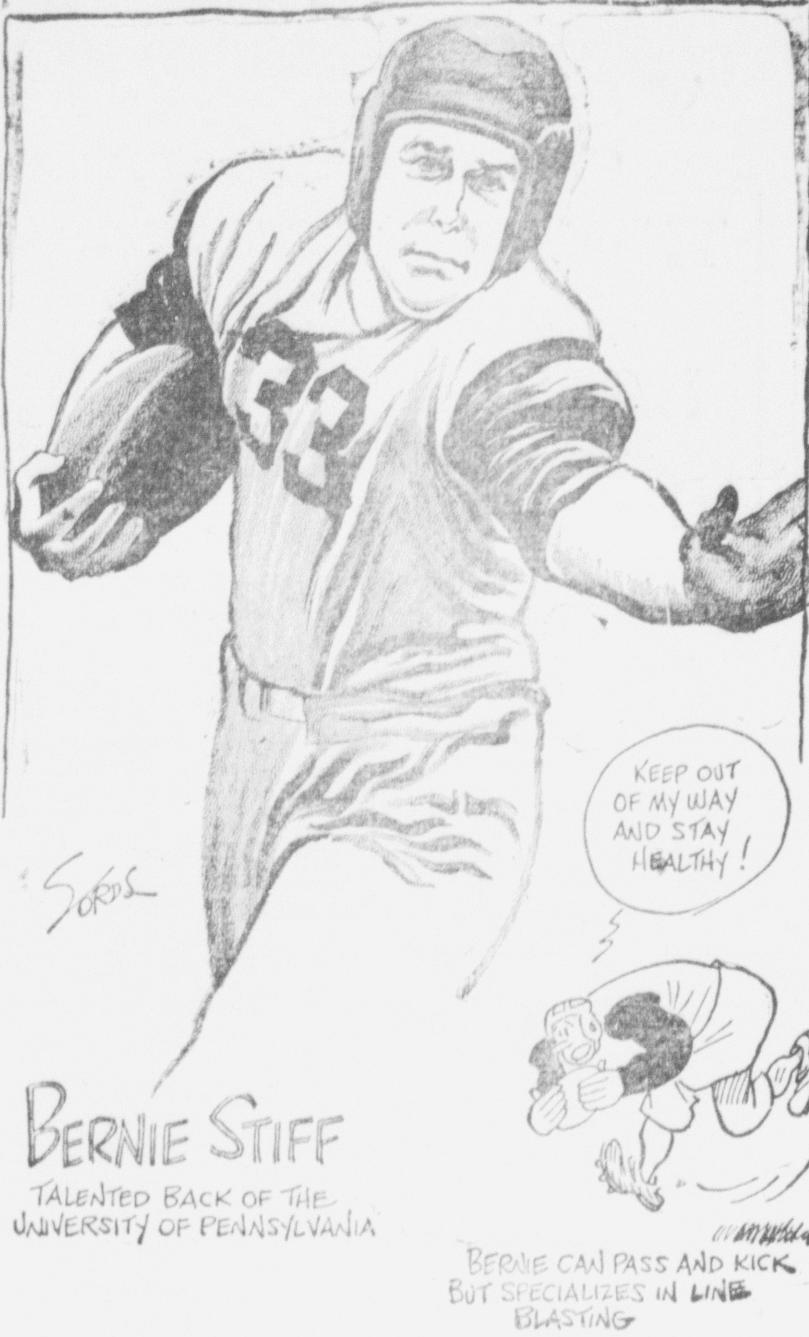

Present at the meeting were: Franklin, G. Fields; Croydon, Henry Morgan; Third Ward, W. Dougherty and J. Elmer; Bristol Aces, S. Massi; and Voltz-Texaco, J. Strecker.

parents reminded: "When you send your children to us you expect us to train them for manhood and womanhood. But you really should think in terms of present experience. For present living and experience counts for much. . . . A child doesn't learn much unless he feels he needs to learn."

By Jack Sords

And each of us learns on the basis of our past experience, with a little new added to it. Something of the new should lend excitement to the learning experience; but enough of the old should form a basis of familiarity. If the child is interested enough to learn, the discipline problem usually disappears.

The need of self-criticism on the part of both parents and teachers was mentioned as a necessity. "And we must help the young people to understand themselves, and criticize themselves, for that is the only way they can improve." He then touched on some educational details, particularly those that relate to the college level. "The more education we have, the more equipment we have because of our greater understanding."

Dr. Dillingham spoke of such organizations as parent teacher associations being very helpful. "We teachers like to get in a position in which we can talk to you parents; and parents can do much for us. We don't and means committee. He also reported on possibility of having linoleum placed on the cafeteria tables.

The P. T. A. decided to establish a rubber and galosh exchange, with parents taking out-grown rubber footwear of the children or of adults to the next meeting of the P. T. A., where such can be exchanged for proper size. Many organizations are thus aiding the war effort by conserving rubber footwear. This may be participated in by anyone interested. Mrs. Willard Bartoe invited all to add to the clothing bank being built up by the local defense workers.

For the term the P. T. A. adopted as its main effort a general health program for the children. The committee includes: Mrs. Charlotte Walsh, Mrs. Bartoe, Ned Moyer and Miss Carson, the school nurse. This committee was authorized to take such measures as necessary in cooperation with the board of education to improve health conditions in the cafeteria and at the school in general.

Frank Binder, school principal, introduced other members of the teaching staff to the group. Miss Perry, Mrs. Welsh, Miss Sara Jones, Miss Detweiler; also the P. T. A. officers. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Albert W. Eastburn.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Samuel Brehaut and her committee members.
